REFLECTIONS...

HYPERLINKED COMMUNITIES & ENVIRONMENTS

These two blog posts made me ponder on just how crucial community engagement is in library operations, both stateside and globally.

NEW HORIZONS

AI is a polarizing topic and this blog made me reflect on ways libraries can adapt to emerging technologies.

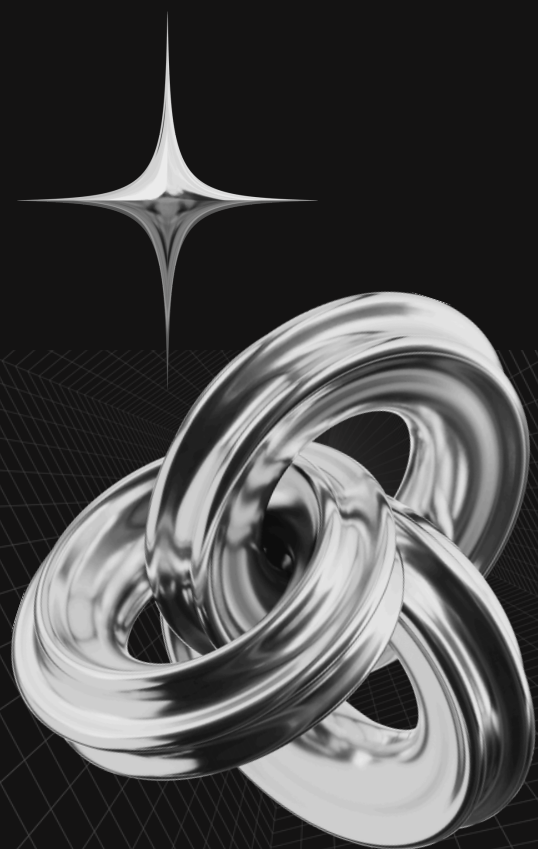

POWER OF STORIES

Storytelling and library access has shaped my life, particularly during my childhood in Indonesia, where public libraries are scarce. This blog reminded me that libraries shouldn't be a privilege but the standard.

INFINITE LEARNING

While libraries support lifelong learning for patrons, professional development for part-time staff can lag behind. This blog made me reflect on the limited opportunities for growth at my public library, which can feel discouraging despite sparking my interest in the LIS field.
